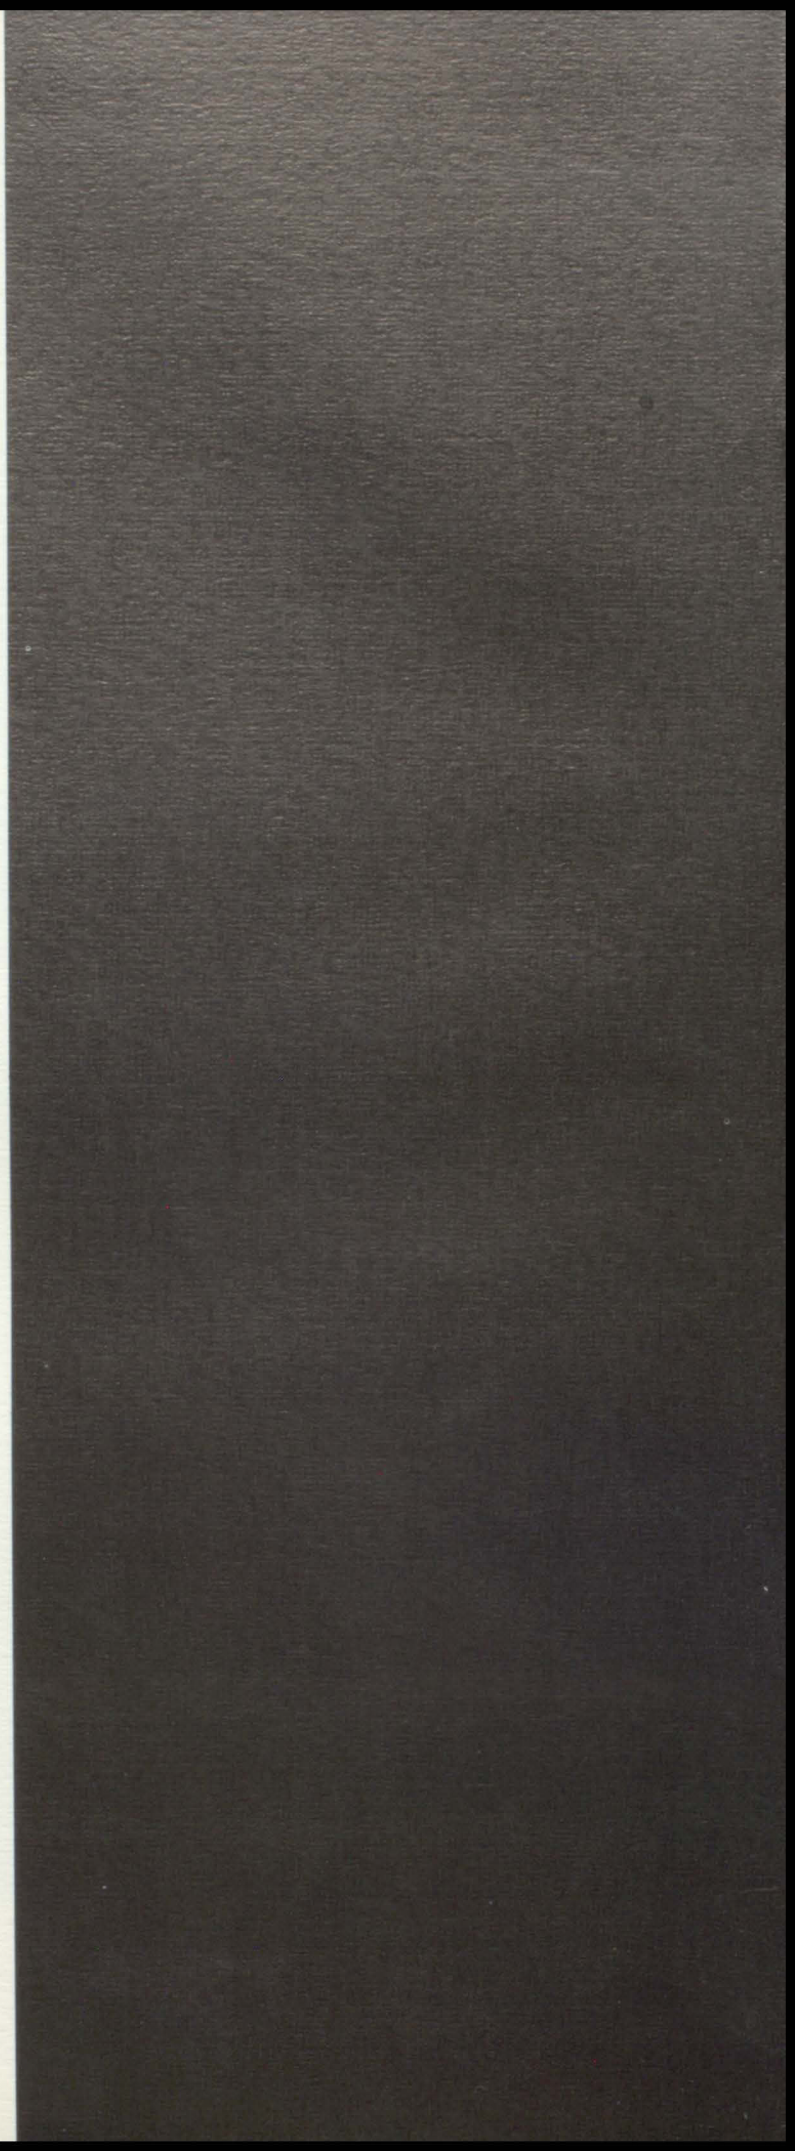
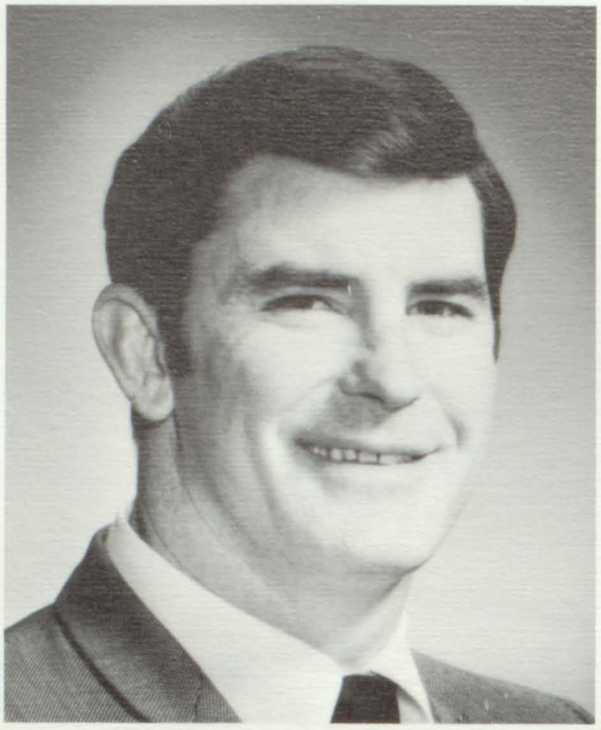
FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

1971 has brought us closer to the faculty through increased classroom activity. It is said that life is a golden gate and the educators of the students hold the key to their success. Basic students are fortunate in having teachers that strive to open the minds of the students, add knowledge, and prepare them to open the gate of life with the key of education.



People Dedicated to the Betterment of Our Schools

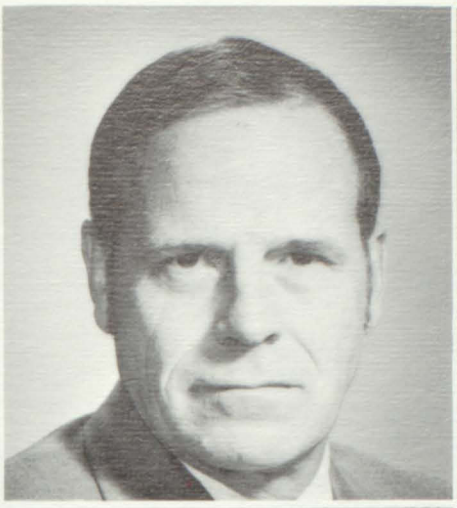


Dr. Kenny C. Guinn, Superintendent of Clark County schools.

Glen C. Taylor, Pres.
Alick J. Mackie

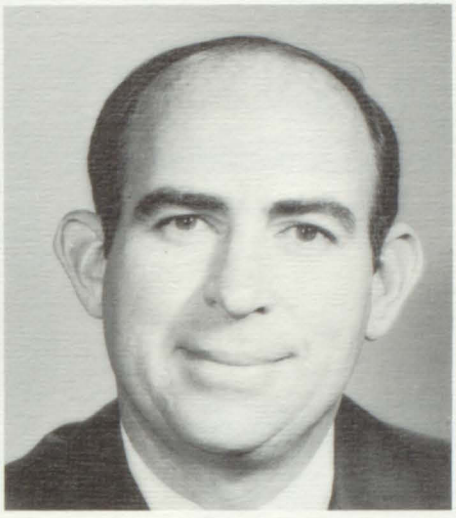
Clark County School District Education Center

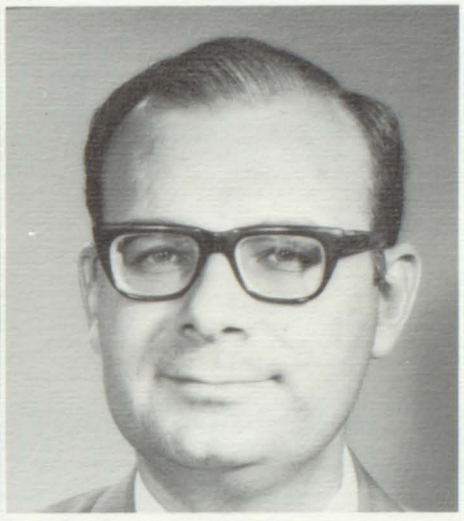
Dr. Clare W. Woodbury
Dell H. Robison



John F. Anderson
James C. Andrus

C. Donald Brown
David Canter





Helen Cannon

All this year, Dr. Guinn hosted press conferences for journalism and publication students. The students were free to bring up any subjects of interest to them, but the majority of questions pertained to education. Dr. Guinn hoped that this close contact with the students would further enable the school board to work towards the betterment of our school system.

The school board meets twice a month and any other times necessary at the Education Center on Flamingo Road. John Anderson, James Andrus, and David Canter are new members on the school board.

John A. Dooley, Principal, Reflects 1971

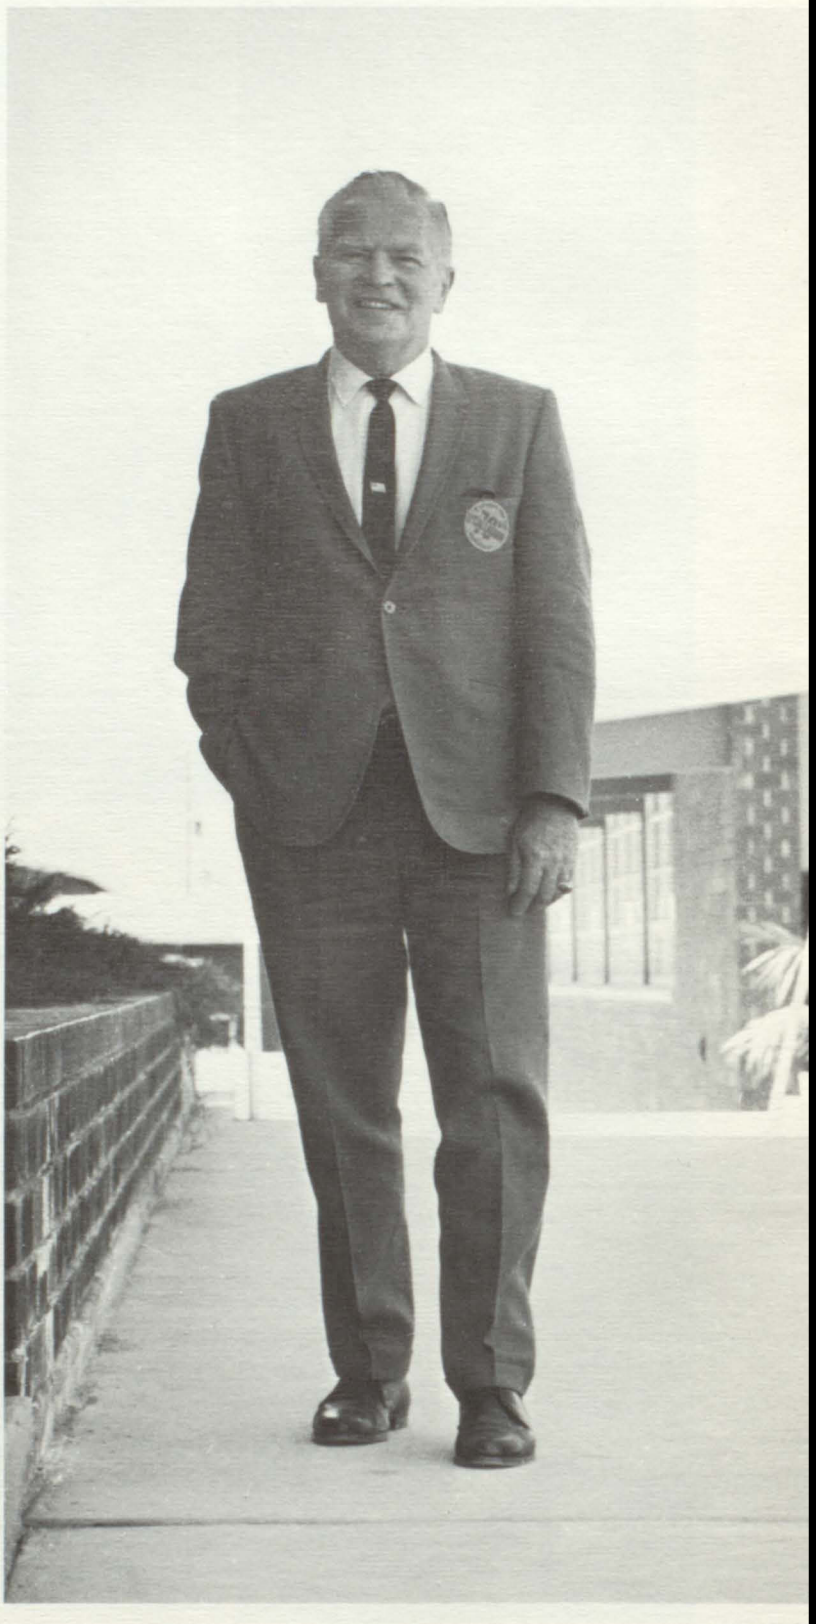
To the Class of 1971

As you reflect on the year of 1971, I hope that you find that it was the year in which unbridled dissent and undisciplined controversy were replaced by the unfeigned search for truth in solving the social problems of our nation in particular and the world in general. If I could make only one contribution to your search, it would be to tell you that the first step must be the removal of all false aspects that are inherent to any controversy.

Sincerely,

John A. Dooley

Mr. Dooley ponders one of the many daily problems confronting him.



Don Smith, Assistant Principal, Dennis Rosch, Athletic Director, Estes McDoniel, Assistant Principal.

Assisting in making Basic one of the smoothest running schools in the county, is Estes McDoniel, assistant Principal, who, among other duties, supervises discipline, the attendance system, and school calendar. Don Smith handles requitions for supplies and equipment and is responsible for school inventory. Dennis Rosch is the athletic director and co-ordinates interscholastic sports.

Freda Harzy, Darlene Werber, Louise Horan, secretaries.

Paula Pfister, Principal's secretary

Seeking a Career

Helen Laubach Typing I, Jolene Smalley Steno, Gladys White Typing II, Walter Botts Distributive Education.

Mrs. Smalley and Sharon Neilson discuss the use of the dictating machine.

In the Business world this year classes were a little different from years before.

Data Processing went on field trips to businesses that have computers, so the students could see for themselves the many different kinds of computers.

For the first time our first year students who are enrolled in the Business program and who took typing 1 learned how to type on electric typewriters. It was very successful.

There were five one semester courses in Personal Typing which gives more students an opportunity of learning to type. All students who plan to attend college should take this course. It will be of value when term papers are due.

In steno first year students learned the basics of short hand. Second year students learned how to write longer words and also used the dictating machine.

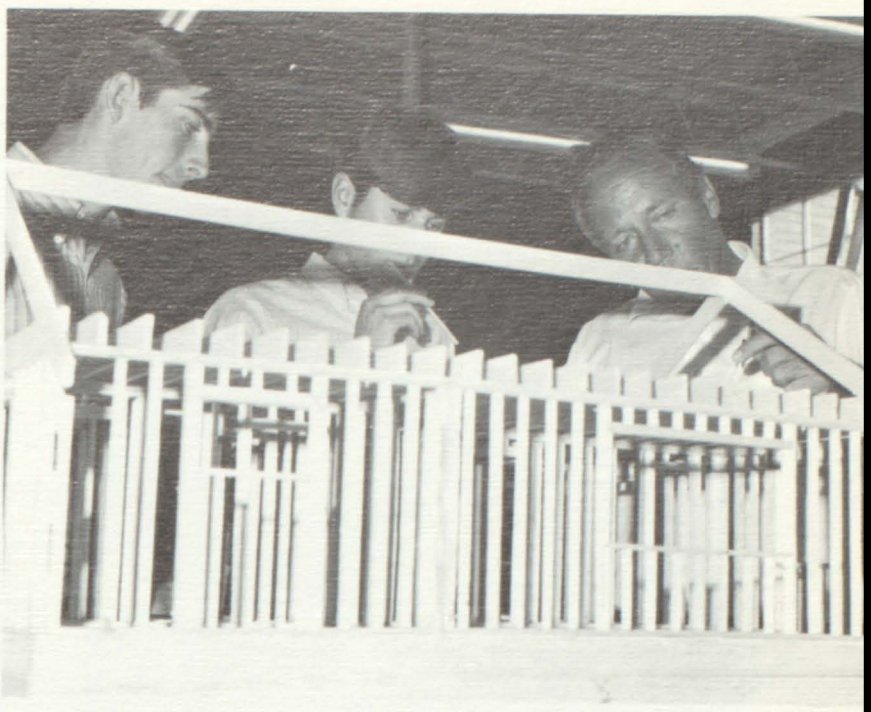
Bookkeeping classes learned accounting, how to do journals, and many different things to help them in their later years.

Basic's Handycraft Learning Center

A mosaic for the Southern Nevada Museum is the first item of work on the list of the Arts & Crafts students. The Arts & Crafts students are contributing to this cause. Along with this new project they are continuing their work in leathers and ceramics.

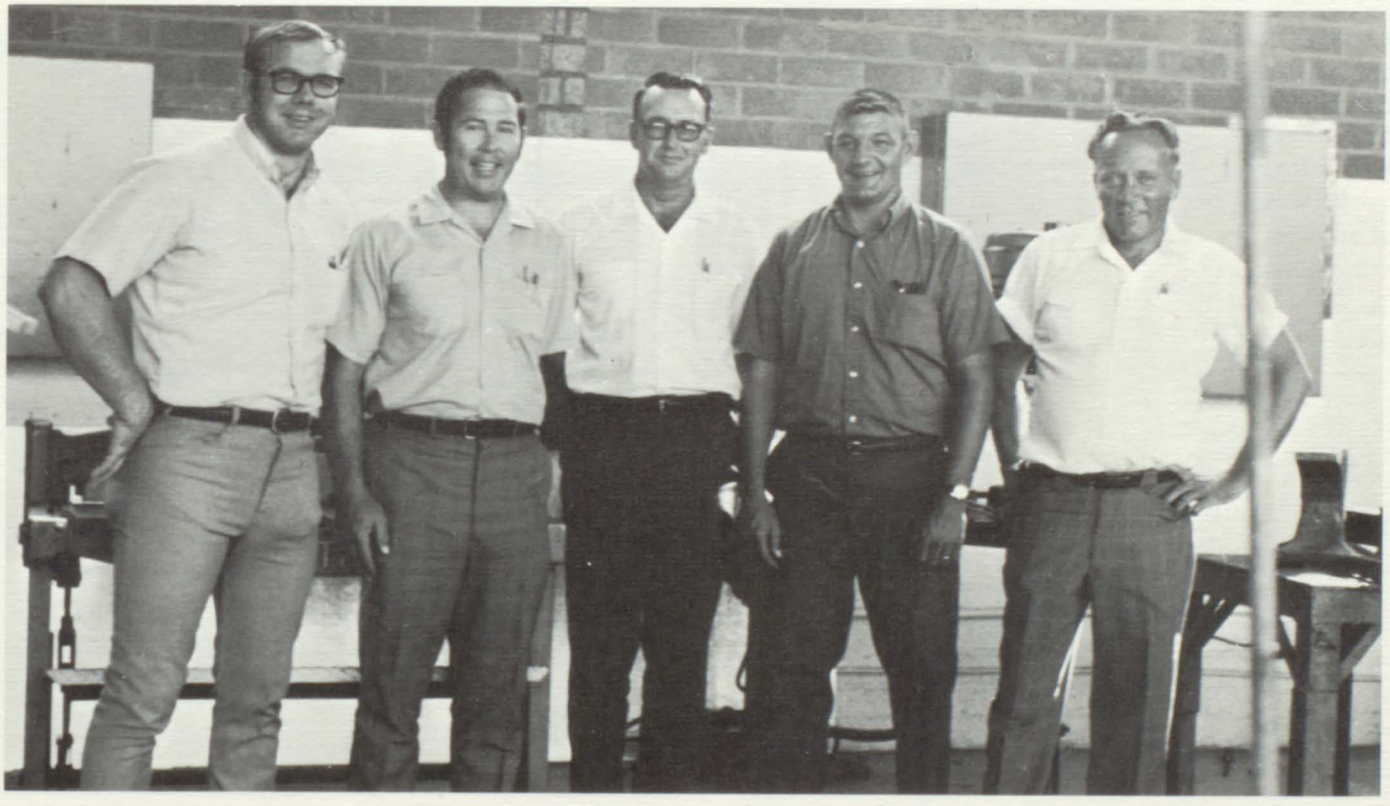
The upholstering class is in it's second year at Basic, and is proving to be quite successful.

As usual the shop classes are working up to their standards. Auto shop is constantly looking for a student's car on which to work. Be wary students! These students are still learning!



Mr. Thomas shows Paul Benividez and Dave Ledford that all demensions in the model home must be exact.

Steve Sullivan Arts & Crafts, James Moore Drafting, Lowell Davis Metal Shop, Cloyd Lovitt Auto Shop, Robert Thomas Wood Shop.



Enriching Your Knowledge

Sweet to the ears are the sounds emitting from the music room throughout the year. But all the practice pays off when the chorus and band concerts are well received by the public.

Patriotism was the theme of the year's first chorus concert presented in October. Especially well received by an enthusiastic audience was the costumed presentation of "Poor Lil."

In December the Bel Conto Choir presented an extremely well done rendition of the Bach Motet #3. And also at this time the band and choir presented a combined Christmas program for the Student Body.

The band started off the year with plenty of practice in order to insure this year's Homecoming being the best ever.

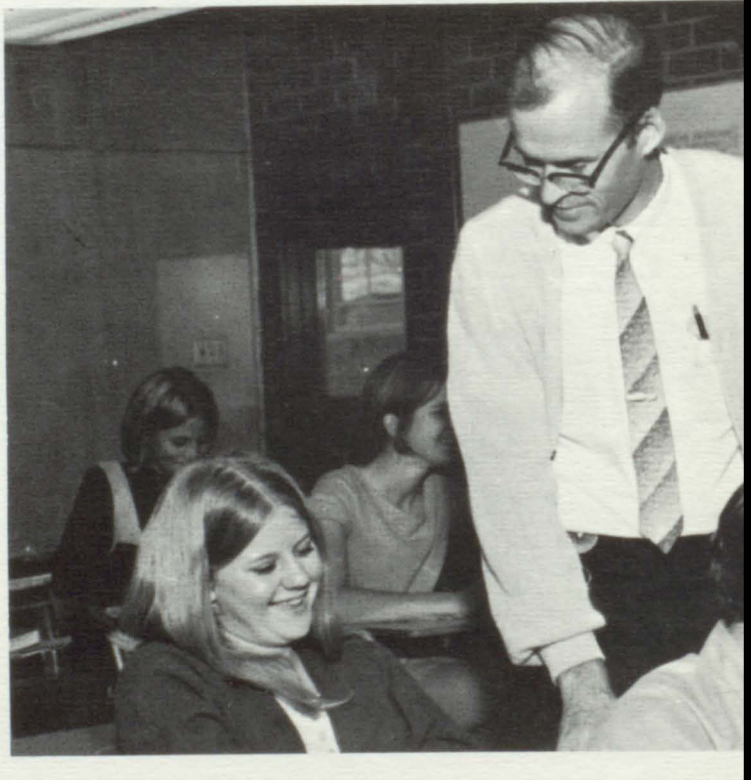
In February was the most thrilling event of all. For the first time in ten years we got new uniforms.

After the Industrial Days were over and everyone had worn himself out from marching in the parade, we all relaxed. Approximately sixty of us spent an enjoyable two weeks in Mexico with Mr. Walkers Spanish students. There we saw the beautiful sites and ended the year performing our last concerts in Mexico.

This year in Spanish we learned verbs, learned to write in Spanish, and the advanced students read short stories, went to Spanish movies, and later in the year wrote essays.

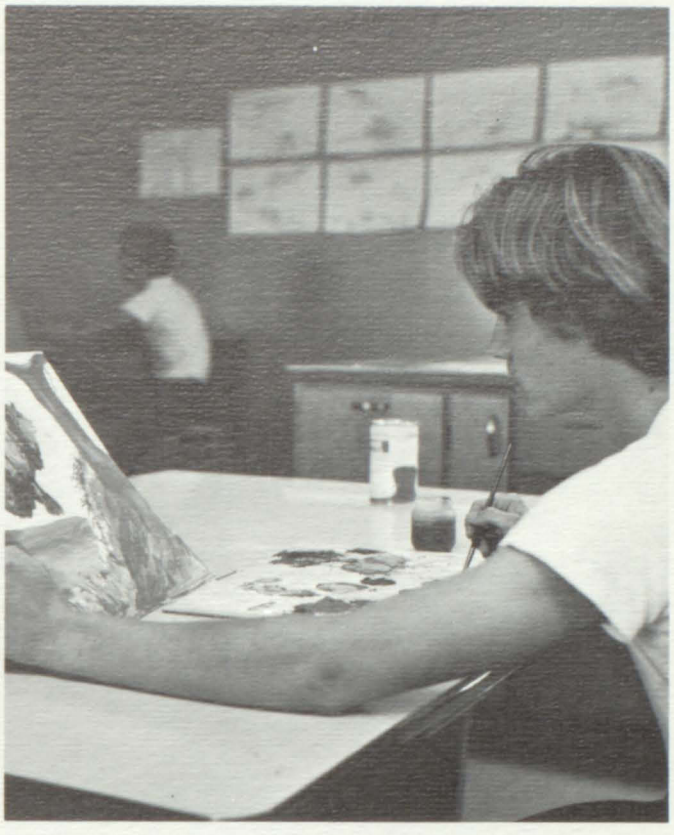
French classes are varied and encompass much more than just reading, speaking and translating. For example we enjoy one of the delicacies of the French, snails. We attend French movies at U.N.L.V. We read French Peanuts books and we also study French artists and authors. We are eagerly awaiting our planned trip to Canada in 1972.

Duane Fuller Band, Marlan Walker Spanish, Warren Frank Art,

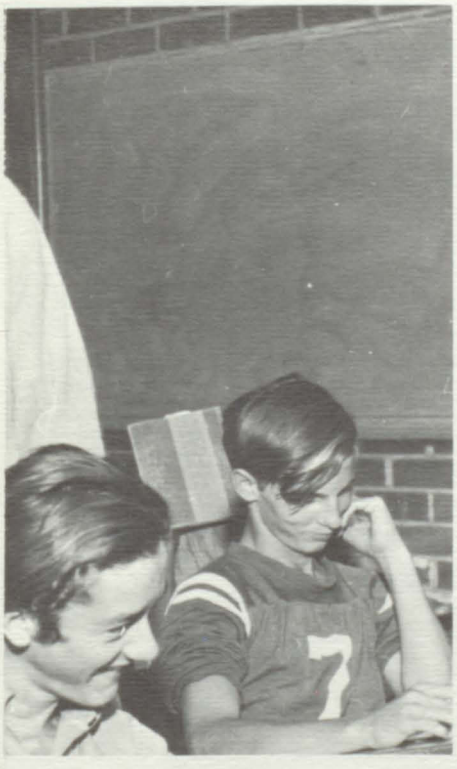


"Caramba," says Mr. Workman to Betty Malmedal, "Pronounce the word correctly."

Diana Tomlinson, Chorus, JoAnn McDoniel, French, Ernest Workman, Spanish.



Dave Owens examines his fine work of art.



"Use breath support in order to come down on the note." Urges Mrs. Tomlinson.

Preparing Students for Tomorrow

John Shannon, Special Education, Nadine Ryan, Home-ec, Loraine Heart, Home-ec

Sewing classes in the Home Ec. Department are as exciting as any on campus. Between annual pictures being taken in Room #15, electrical shorts, machines being broken, more school pictures, fire drills, and other enjoyable activities all girls engaged about 10 minutes a day for three days of the five.

Cooking is always eventful and many tantilizing new dishes not resembling any known dishes, but in some cases eatable are produced.

Interior Decorating classes spent some time considering what improvements were needed for Room #14, but gave up and concentrated on book work instead.

Human Relations was also eventful, occationally ending in blood shead and so the much safer subject of Narcotics was chosen to end the year.

The work experience program is designed to give the Special Education student actual experiences in everyday working situations either on or off campus during a limited part of the day, providing the opportunity of working under different supervisors, in different job capacities, etc. One of our most important goals in this program is to develop in the Special Education student a sense of dependability and reliability.

Keep Physically Fit

"let's better the athletics at Basic" seems to be the main objective of the boys P.E. department! The boys started off with a great opportunity; a new sixth period honors athletics. It's purpose: Simply to condition the boys for their different sports by using such techniques as agility drills, general activities, weight lifting, learning different and more advanced techniques.

Coaches have retained the right to choose these athletes, in order to keep only the young men with good intentions. NO GOOF OFFS! In order for these athletes to prove themselves worthy they must sign, and live up to all rules of a "letter of intent."

The letter designed by the coaches lays out a few rules and regulations covering the dress code, curfew, drugs, alcohol, smoking and penalities for violating any of those areas.

Due to the lack of shower and dress facilities the girls P.E. classes were interrupted for the entire first phase. City recreational departments helped solve this problem by making available the swimming pool. During the second phase, the girls improved their bowling skills. The third phase was devoted to creative dancing. Ending the school year the girls participated in all types of outdoor sports.

Our Universal Language

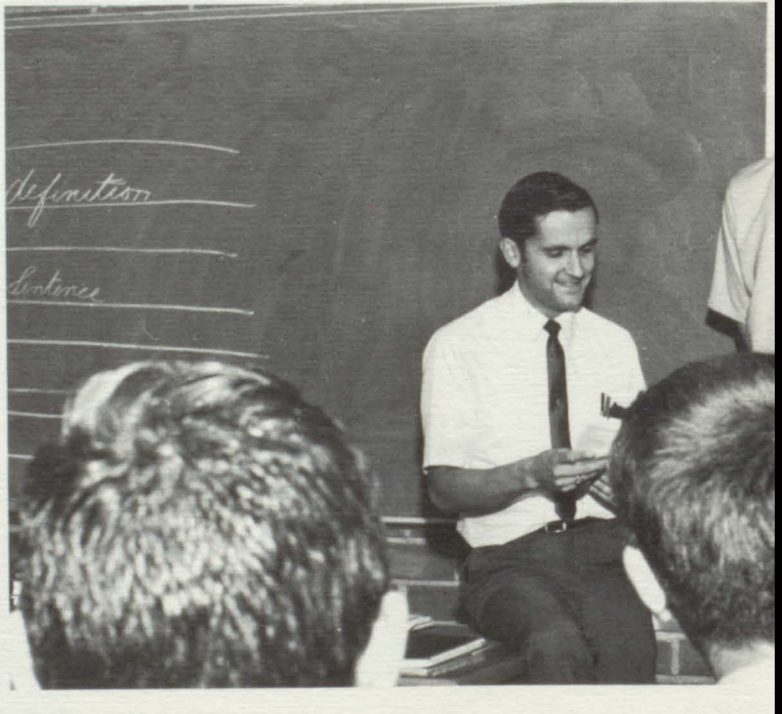
This year, for the first time, Mr. Cooke is teaching an elective which is known as Forensics. It is open to any student interested in participating in all phases of speech above and beyond what is required in the regular English classes. Students in the Forensics class also are given an opportunity to participate in local, state and out-of-state Forensics contests.

A student to be admitted to this class, must obtain permission form Mr. Cooke.

English IV students will again take part in a developmental reading program. This program is to help students improve in several reading skills. Seniors who are college prep. majors will again do a comprehensive research paper.

Other than this, the year's program was one filled with literature, speech, and composition projects at all levels, which attempted to meet the needs of the individual student.

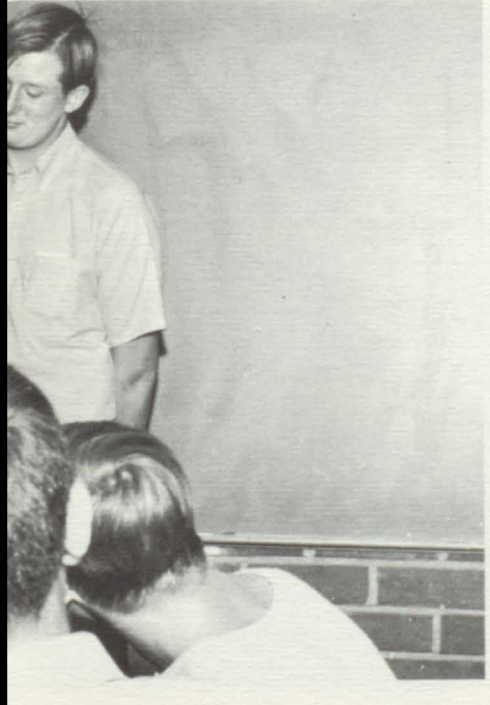
George Appleton, English, Patty Stupar English, Irene Ravlin, Librarian, Marjorie Stroebel, English, Lois Taylor, English.



Mr. Smalley discusses with Andy Paul the meaning of his spelling words.

John Beatty, English, David Smalley, English, Gerald Parsons, Literature, Verdena Purcell, Literature, Ross Cooke, Speech.

Vicki Drew looks into information for her term paper.



Famous quotes from Mr. Cooke, "ABC. . ."

Exploring Microbes, Equations, and Nature.

This year in the Science Department more and exciting things happened than ever before.

In Chemistry experiments were being run, and about one half of these experiments were done as discovery projects. The results of these were used to predict or describe the properties, activity, and uses of the substances prior to the students study.

In Physics we used the problem solving approach. Using this method it tended to show the useful value of the physical laws.

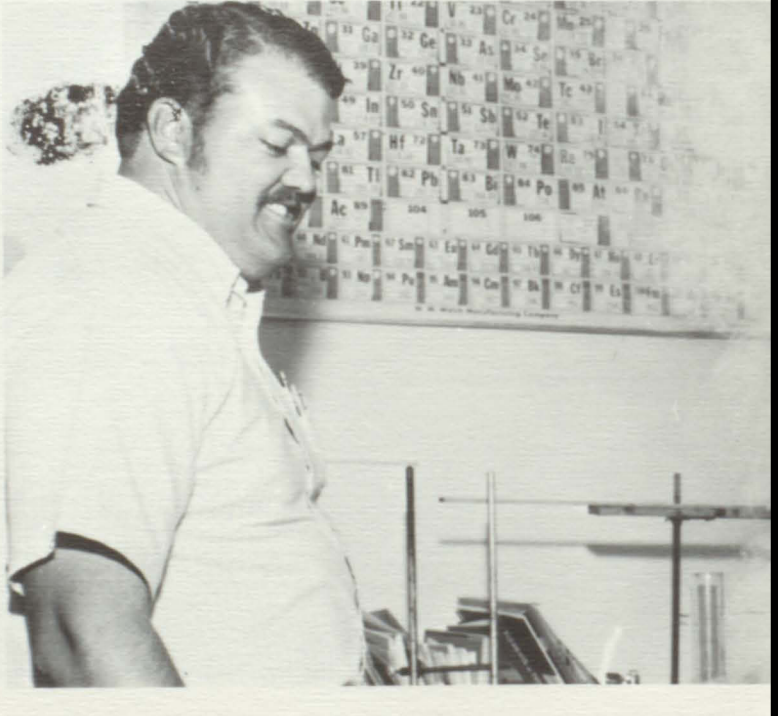
In Geology, we did many experiments and went on a numerous number of field trips in our local area.

In Math classes this year many classes were on independent study. We started where the student was and took him from there.

Mr. Crysler claimed that more logic was taught in Math 1 classes this year. So maybe we will have more mathematicians graduating from Basic.

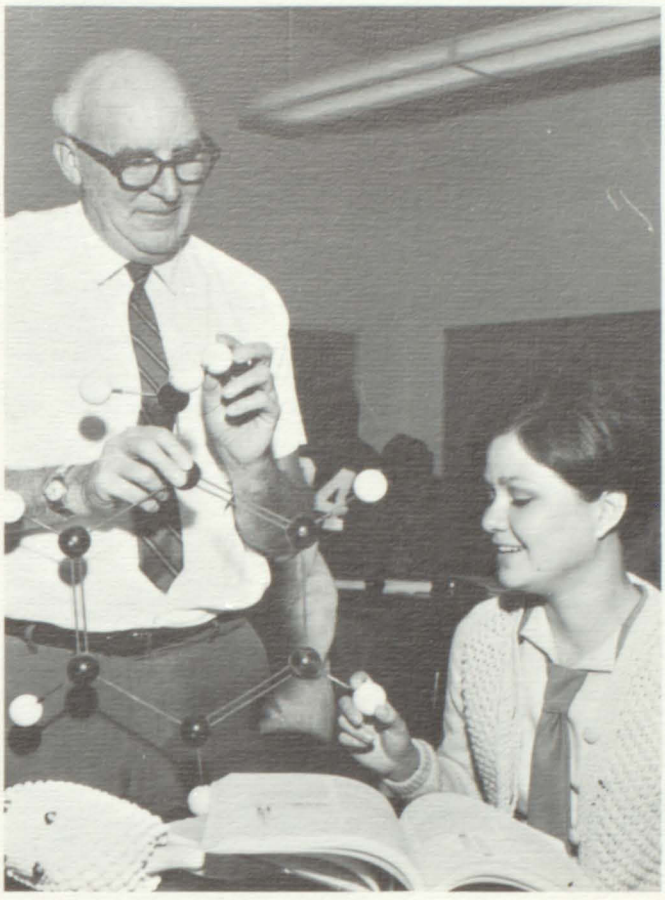
Those students who were in Algebra 1 last year and were now enrolled in Algebra 11, learned those things Mrs. Anderson told them they would need for college.

Robert Tolman, Math, Dennis Smuskiewicz, Math, Jackie Anderson, Math, Roy Huffman, Biology, Chapman Wooten, Math.



Mr. Laughlin shows Cheryl Settle how he makes his own clouds of smoke.

Bruce Laughlin Chemistry, George Crisler, Math, Walter Rist, John Shaw, General Science, Ray Wilke, Biology.



Mr. Shaw shows Maggi Costillo the world of Physics in America.

Mrs. Anderson discusses with Tom Wiest the test he flunked.

From the Past Comes the Future

Our History education begins in our Freshman year with World History. Cultures of other worlds are emphasized during this year.

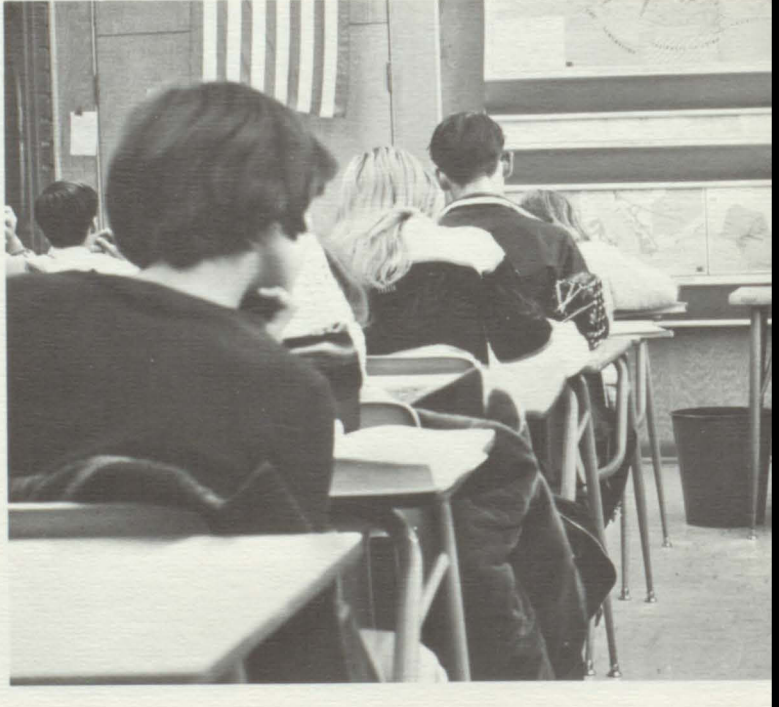
During the Sophomore year students get a break, only to prepare themselves for the following year.

Your Junior year acquaints you with daily quizzes, worksheets, and naturally the annual outline of the Constitution.

Daily quizzes are always enjoyed by the students. In addition to answering all the questions in the book through out the year. The outline of the Constitution prepares you for your senior year in Government.

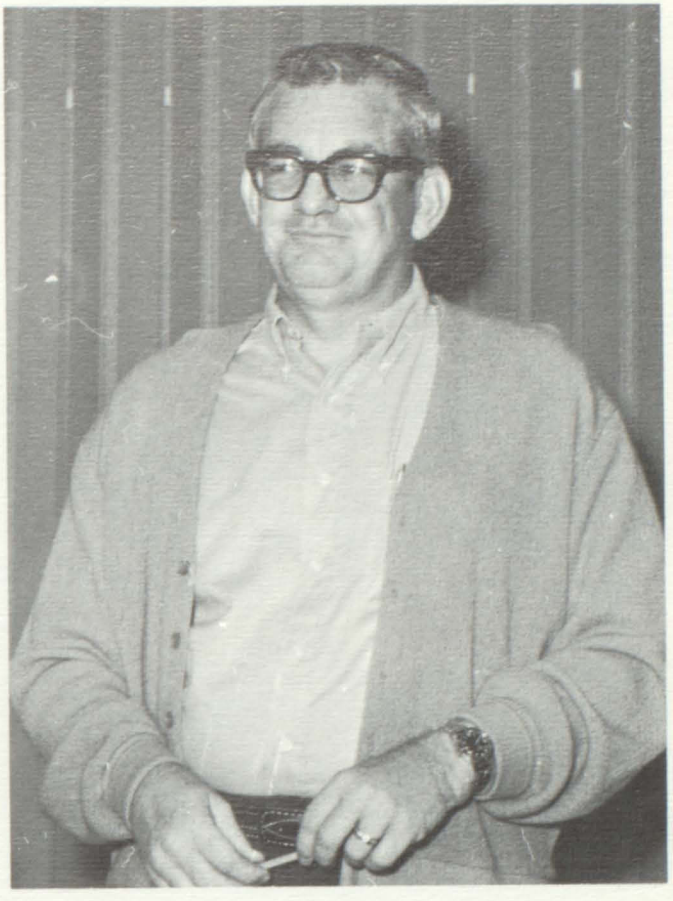
Finally your senior year awaits you, bringing with it, Government. With the numerous amount of quizzes and tests much pressure is put upon you. But before you know it the year is over and the hard work is behind you. Now you are on your own ready to face the world and to make your own history.

Ben Knowles, Social Studies, Paul Ruth, Social Studies, Joan Fincher, Social Studies.

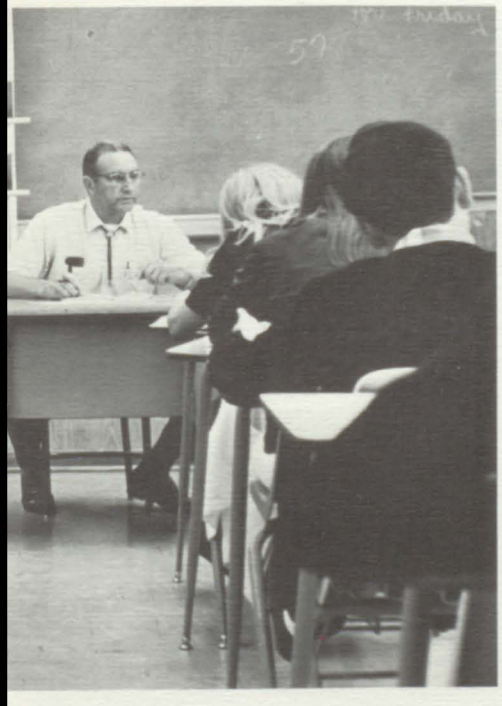


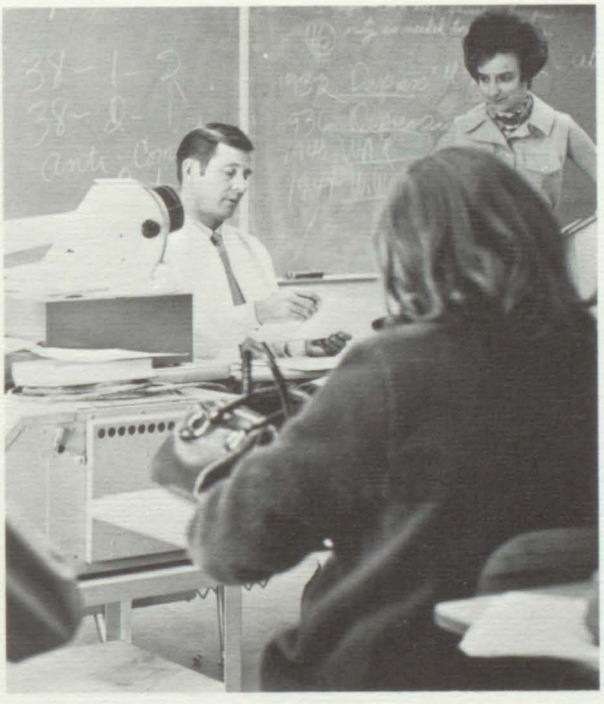
"Keep your eyes on your own paper during the test." warns Mr. Crakes.

Richard Empson, Social Studies, Joe Crakes Social Studies, Don Bittle Social Studies, William Horan, Social Studies.



Mr. Bittle listens to his students discuss last nights homework.





Mr. Ruth enjoys the afternoon grading the daily quizes.

Working Behind the Scenes

Our counselors help any student who has a problem and wants someone to help them find the answer. They try there best to satisfy you and they are more than happy to help you.

The cooks at Basic High School try to cook the food the way you like it and every day they try to improve our lunch program. These women are very well appreciated by both the students and faculty when the noon bell rings.

The custodians help to beautify Basic High. They do more than their share because they want to be proud of their work and they also want you to be proud. They are always willing to help you and are always their friendliest.

SENIORS

1971 has been a year of adjustment and change for the Senior Class. They have undergone the metamorphosis from high school "big shots" to young men and women ready to face the world outside the classroom and are confident that the knowledge they have gained in their four years at Basic will help to make them useful and productive in a grown-up society.

1971—The Picture of Our Future Is Taking Shape

We, the class of 1971, view our years at Basic as an important part of growing up. Our lives are comparable to a jigsaw puzzle. Our four years at Basic, while roughly cut and difficult to place at times, are perhaps the most important part of our puzzle. We began our freshman year in uncertainty, wanting to belong, yet not quite fitting. Yet, as we adjusted to the Basic system, our self-consciousness vanished, we became a part of the surroundings and dropped our first year of high school into the proper space in the puzzle. As each year passed—after each part found its place in the puzzle—we have begun to see the reward for our years of study and concentration, of trying to make the pieces fit. Although our puzzle is far from complete, we have begun to see life as a pattern, with a fairly clear picture of the future. Our years at Basic have helped to fill the empty spaces to complete that picture.

UNDERCLASSMEN

1971 has been a year of new discoveries for the underclassmen. With the aid of their teachers, they have delved into the complex world of growing up. They have learned new rules and have gained much through the example set by the upperclassmen. This year has been an important step towards making Basic proud of them—and of being equally proud of Basic.

Juniors Learn Today—Lead Tomorrow

Highlighting the Junior Class activities for the 1970-71 school year were the Class float for homecoming, the Junior Carnival, and the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Juniors, having improved their school spirit, have also learned to take responsibility and grow in maturity for their preparation as Seniors. The class as a whole has grown closer together and made Basic a better place for the underclassmen who will follow in the years to come.

Sophomore Enthusiams Adds to School Spirit

The Sophomore class started the year off with one of the most successful Sophomore Reverses held at Basic High School in a long time. The theme for this year's Reverse was "Close to You". Through the co-operation of Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Wilkie, Mr. Huffman, our sponsors, the art department and those who helped set up the equipment in the multi-purpose room, the decorations looked terrific.

The Homecoming Float proved to be one of the most unforgettable experiences for the hard working Sophomore class. After the Homecoming game, through skillful planning, our Float was sabotaged and became an unscheduled bonfire.

The spirit of the Sophomore Class has improved this year thanks to a great Student Council and the enthusiasm of each individual in the class.

Freshmen Find Out What Basic's All About

The Class of '74 reflects the spirit necessary to continually build a great student body at Basic.

This year's freshmen class, led by President Dean Shafer, has proven to be the kind of class that Basic is proud to build on.

This year's activities began with the building of the float, the Trojan Horse and Chariot, for Homecoming. Then came the Slave Sale, always a big success.

Hopefully, as they blaze a path into the '70's, the Class of '74 will make their years at Basic memorable and profitable.

STUDENT LIFE

1971 has been a year of compatibility of ideas and a desire for self-expression. Through the many organizations and clubs on the Basic campus, students are able to find an outlet for their talents and direct them towards special areas of endeavor.

Robin Gibson, Sec; Mike Lefler, Pres.; Bob Anderson, Vice-Pres.; Kris Augspurger, Treas.

Cornerstones of Leadership

This year the Student Council sponsored numerous activities that brought the Student Body of Basic High School closer together, and consequently increased school spirit and loyalty.

Included in the many activities was the traditional painting of the "B", and the sponsoring of a dance and barbecue for those who participated in painting it.

Basic's constitution was revised, making the requirements for the Silver B award more difficult.

The Student Council also sponsored a clean-up campaign in which the classes competed in keeping their designated areas the cleanest and most attractive.

We Opened the Door to Knowledge

The National Honor Society, Agassiz chapter at Basic High School, requires of its members a high, continuing scholastic achievement.

Each month the Society meets to plan fund raising projects which will provide a scholarship for one senior member. Especially enjoyable are the two dinner meetings held during the year.

The plans for the year begin with Gary, Mr. Roscha, Eugene, Debbie and Laura.

Students Learn French Culture in French Club

This year we began with the election of our new club officers. Later when plans were made by the officers a party was given. At this party those who were new to the club were initiated quickly and painlessly by the older members.

To further our knowledge of French culture, our club attended a film shown in Las Vegas.

In December we combined forces with the Spanish Club and enjoyed our annual Christmas party with all the trimmings.

Finally, we considered ourselves very fortunate because of the plans being made by our sponsors for the club members to tour Canada this summer.

ADVISER: JoAnn McDoneil

Knowing how hard it is to eat a snail, Kay Chandler lends a new member a helping hand.

Spanish Club Goes to Mexico

In addition to fostering enthusiasm for the Spanish language, club members also become acquainted with the customs of other Latin American countries.

Throughout the year our three most important meetings are the initiation of Peons in October, the Christmas party in December, and our final meeting when the new officers are elected.

Officers are: Debbie Ness, Pres.; Jeff Sullivan, V. Pres.; Robin Gibson, Sec.; Kim Meacham, Treas.

ADVISER: Marlan Walker

Peons Patty Barry and Dean Shafer discover the fun there is in just passing a life-saver.

Aristocrats—Advanced Spanish Students

Members of the Aristocrats are advanced Spanish students who meet informally throughout the year at the homes of various members. To make things more interesting, only Spanish is spoken.

At the end of the year the annual dinner meeting is held at MACAYO VEGAS at which time new officers are elected.

ADVISER: Marlan Walker

Members of the Aristocrats enjoy serenading the U.S. history students, proving that they will do anything to get out of class.

Students Exchange Views at Annual Sun Youth Forum

"...and abortions should be legalized for eighteen year olds.

"...there ought to be a more liberal curfew in the country, Mr. Chairman.

"...and, furthermore, we ought to pull out of Vietnam."

These are some of the many heated exchanges which were heard when Basic seniors made the annual trip to the Sun Youth Forum at the Convention Center.

The world may little note what was said at the forum, but seniors who participated got a lot said about some exciting issues.

The day ended with an entertainment spectacular in the best tradition of the Las Vegas Strip. Seniors are not likely to forget the singing of Frank Sinatra, Jr. nor the antics of Redd Fox who turned in a riotous performance in the typical Foxx tradition.

Governor-elect Mike O'Callaghan paid a surprise visit to recount how he had participated in one of the first Sun Youth Forums. Mike, a Basic government teacher a few years ago, took several other groups of Basic seniors to the convention center gathering sponsored by the Las Vegas Sun.

A Side Trip into the Past

This year W.H.O. (Western Historian Organization) participated in various service projects for the Nevada State Museum.

First, we served as hostesses at the JayCee Fair held in the Las Vegas Convention Center last October. Following the Fair, we began a series of money raising projects for the museum.

Finally we organized a group called "Tour Guides", who conducted tourists through the museum and explained the different displays.

The members of this group must have and maintain high standards at school, especially in their academic work.

ADVISER: Lois Taylor

Valerie Peterson makes butter the old-fashioned way while Mariam Bell supervises.

Teaching the Fine Art of Argumentative Persuasion

James Mathis, Juanita Marshall, Sue Carter, Margie Cochran, Kris Miller, Debbie Reid, Randy Henderson, Mark Carmouch, Jan Stearman, George Salamy, Reta Harris, Bonnie Worthen, Cynthia Howe, Kathy Pendleton were our members who worked as debate teams. Their problem was simply this: Resolved "That the Federal Government should establish, finance, and administer programs to control air and water pollution in the United States".

Steve Evans was an Oral Interpreter, as were Sue Carter and Debbie Reid. Steve also provided us an Oratorical entry that concerned itself with the plight of the children of our migrant agricultural workers.

James Mathis served an an Expository speaker in an unusual explanation of the ocean's currents. He also, along with Reta Harris, pinch-hit in the Extemporaneous department. Most took turns at Impromptu which is always fun.

ADVISER: Ross Cooke

"Oh! That's what an affirmative case looks like! But what is it?" asks Sue Carter of Mr. Cooke.

Basic Students Learn to Work Within the System

Each year the American Legion Auxiliary and Henderson Civic groups sponser a group of girls and boys from Basic High School to participate in a state-wide Girls' and Boys' State.

Stead Campus at the University of Reno hosted the girls while the boys convened at Stewert Indian Reservation.

The purposes are to become more acquainted with our national government; to learn about city, county, and state governments; to develop leadership abilities and citizenship.

Activities: held elections for offices in each division of the government (city, county, and state); gave campaign speeches; listened to various city, county, and state officials; toured the Governor's mansion; met the Governor's wife and kids; met the Governor; held a mock legislature in the State Capitol. (It was to be the last Girls' and Boys' State to occupy those chambers because of the finished construction of the new Legislative Building.

State offices held: Assembly, Debbie Ness, Ross Kesterson; Senate, Talbot Nelson, Reta Harris.

Saving Today's Youth for Tomorrow's Jobs

In hopes of teaching our local youngsters safety on the streets, we presented a safety program to the elementary schools in early October.

The following month, November, we held a vehicle safety check of the cars on campus. If the cars passed all the safety qualifications they were given a safety sticker for their windshield.

The five delegates from our club who attended the Governor's Youth Traffic Safety Conference in Reno in December were Sandy Ford, Cyndy Augspurger, Denise Wood, Sandy Von Ree, and Mike Beason. There they presented our elementary safety program for those attending the Conference.

ADVISER: Sara Rosch

Safety Council members make a thorough check of student cars.

TV Club Members of Today Are TV Cameramen of Tomorrow

TV Club is new this year and it was organized to train TV assistants in the operation of cameras and related equipment.

Our main project this year has been the filming of television programs written and performed by the students themselves.

ADVISER: Duane Fuller

Roland Phillips, ace cameraman, stares in wide-mouthed anticipation as he films an unbelievable English news report.

ROW 1: Mr. Fuller, Adviser, B. Kephart, C. Teer, A. Gibbs, R. Crawford ROW 2: M. Fuller, J. Mathis, C. Bartimus, D.Covington, L. Cameron, B. Brookover, W. Westover

Fortran—The Language of the Computer

This year we gave one of our graduating seniors, who was planning a career in data processing, a scholarship. In order to earn money for this, we sponsored a booth at the Junior Carnival and sold confetti at our Homecoming game.

Throughout the year we participated in numerous other fund raising projects which added to our scholarship fund.

Climaxing our activities was our initiation of new members, followed by our year-end party where we elected new officers.

ADVISER: Jaqueline Anderson

Crystina Owen and Adele Hurst know that slaves must stick together during a Fortran initiation.

FHA—Our Future Homemakers

The Basic chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, with Miss Ryan and Miss Hart as faculty sponsors, is represented by a membership of approximately 80 girls, who actively participated in the many activities sponsored by the organization.

F.H.A.'ers were busy this year with the customary bake sales and money-making projects. Together with the Desertaires, they held a very successful pot-luck dinner before a home football game, to which the public was invited. In addition to the work projects, they enjoyed listening to several guest speakers and taking part in various presentations given by invited guests during their regular meetings. The club also continued its annual service project for St. Jude's Ranch.

The traditional Sweetheart Reverse was held on April 3 in recognition of the national F.H.A. week and was enjoyed by everyone present.

The District Roundup in November was held in Las Vegas and Basic was well represented.

A small group of the most active members traveled to Fallon in March for the state convention, where they met with F.H.A. 'ers from all parts of the state.

This year has truly been a rewarding and memorable one for the members of F.H.A. and the Basic chapter has captured the true spirit of the F.H.A. creed, which emphasizes the importance of creating a happy and successful home life.

Future Business Leaders

Students who are enrolled in one or more business education courses have the opportunity of belonging to the Business Club.

Various guest speakers from the business world are invited to speak to the group on subjects pertaining to business careers. Selling ice cream during the noon hour gives experience and is the money raising project of the organization.

The club sponsors the Gregg Award program, which gives awards to the students acquiring commendable skills in typing and shorthand. It also sponsors the annual Business Scholarship, which goes to an outstanding member for further education in the business field. When the bank balance permits, the club buys equipment or materials for the Business Department.

ADVISERS: Gladys White, Jolene Smalley, Helen Laubach

Debbie Walker and Marsha Monroe make sure that no one gets gypped when buying an ice cream cone from the Business Club.

To become a member of Biology Club, a student must have taken or be taking Biology, and must be interested in further investigating the world of "living things".

Our projects consisted of field trips to various places in hopes of learning more about these "living things".

In November we traveled to the Valley of Fire, and the following month we took a trip to Mt. Charleston. Finally we visited museums and studied the ancient Indian relics and artifacts telling about the history of Nevada.

Later in the month two of our members, Denice Chambers and Christine Holdaway, attended a regional convention in Boise, Idaho.

Last March the entire DECA Club attended the convention in Reno. We also went to the Los Angeles Merchandise Market where we toured a tuna factory.

The idea of a canoe Club on Campus was first proposed at BHS last year. It became a reality less than 48 hours later.

The original idea of the club was to promote safe water sport activities, centered around the efficient and near professional operation of a canoe. It was decided that a regular canoe camping program, which would allow the boys to see much of the sport-recreation-historic-geologic in the area would best suit their many and varied interests.

This year, the membership decided to broaden their interests further yet and, accordingly, have scheduled hiking and back-packing trips, ski outings, some spelunking (cave exploring), in addition to their regular overnight canoe camping trips.

The club supports itself with various fund drives which all members participate in. Fund raising events included car washes, litter drives, sale of soft drinks, and an aluminum can drive, the latter of which netted the club $68.

Pep Club—Heart of School Spirit!

There was a new look around school this year—the attractive members of the Pep Club in their new blue and white uniforms.

Not only did the girls encourage all the sports teams, but they contributed many hours to helping with community projects. Particularly enjoyable was their work with the Day Care Center.

Their meetings were held twice a month and with such an enthusiastic group it was easy to plan fund-raising programs.

USHERETTES is more than just a club. Being a member gives each girl the opportunity of serving both her school and the community.

Each member took a turn ushering at the home football and basketball games where she also sold programs. The girls ushered at the school plays and the various other school functions.

Christmas was an especially nice time, because the girls visited the hospital and retirement home where they sang carols and gave gifts.

Best of all was the Sadie Hawkins dance given for the student body.

At the end of the year the members gave a party to announce new officers and to welcome new members to the club.

The Rhythm of the Times

On Nov. 14 the band marched during halftime at the UNLV-Montana State football game. We were very pleased to have been asked to perform, because our principal, Mr. Dooley, was graduated from Montana State University.

Another exciting event was our trip to Mexico City. Knowing money was needed for this we sold home-made bread, collected aluminum cans and Mayor McDoniel declared Nov. 21 as "Band Booster Day". Burger King "jumped on the Band Wagon" and donated ½ of their days proceeds.

Our new uniforms arrived barely in time for our Mexico City trip.

The remainder of the year was spent playing our Christmas program, at basketball games and assemblies and performing at the Spring Festival. ADVISOR: Duane Fuller.

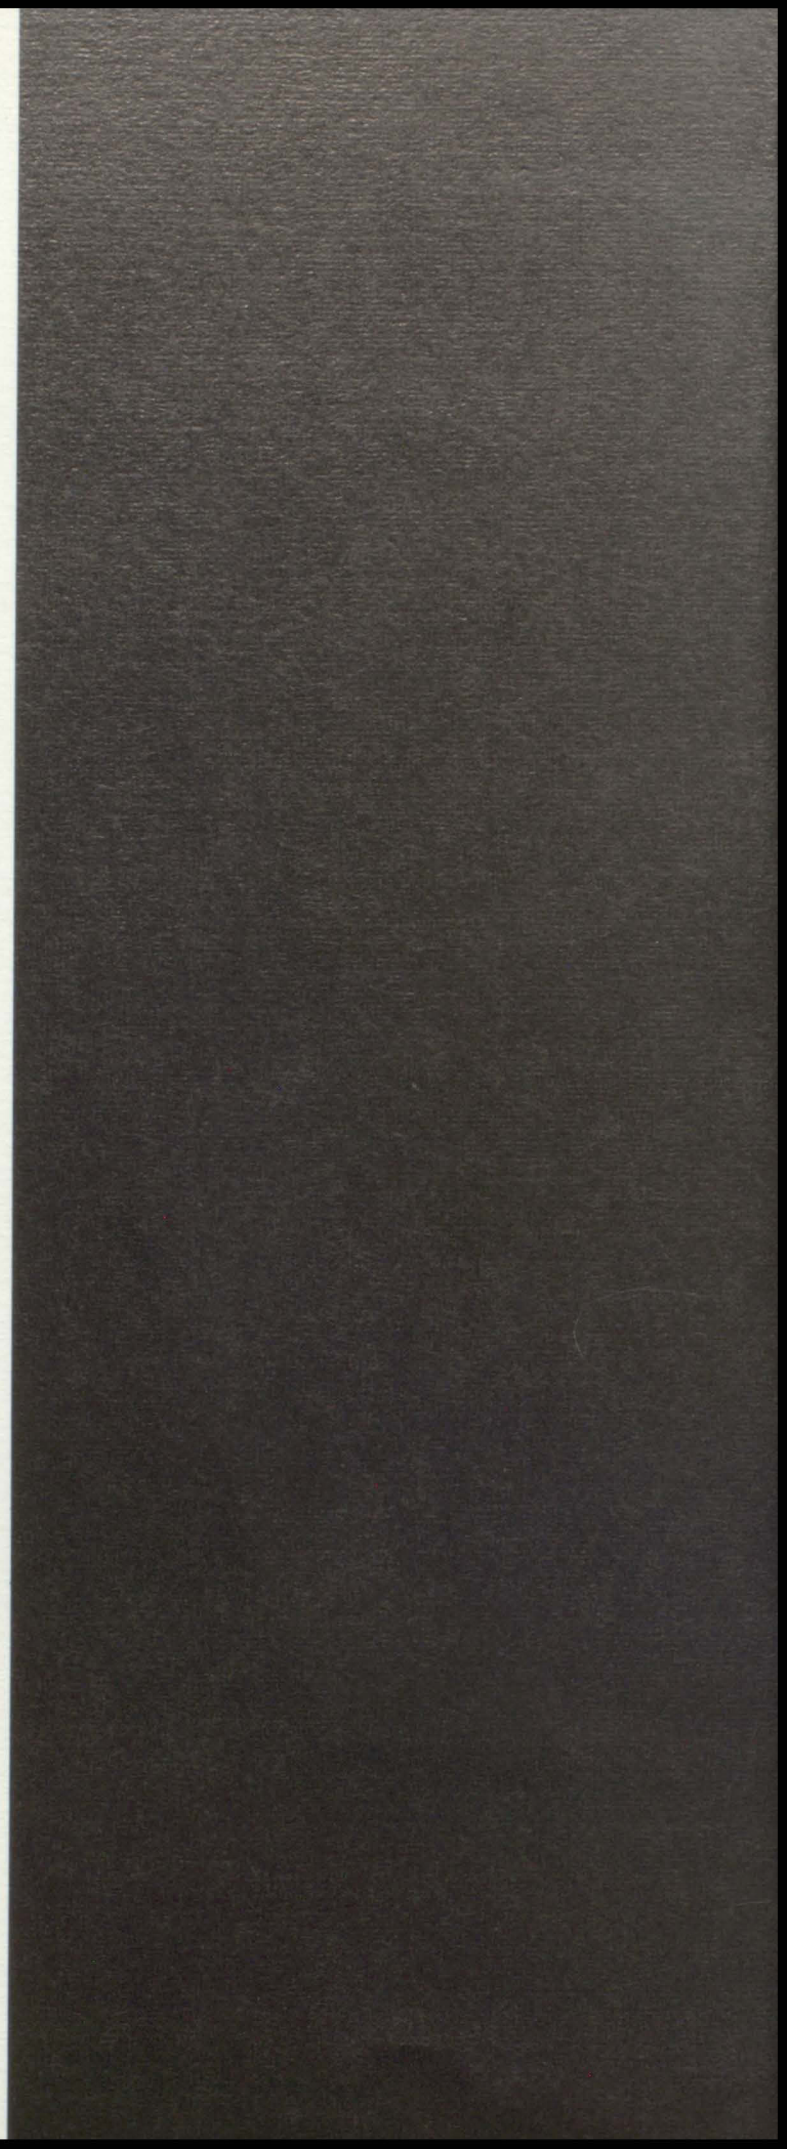
SPORTS

1971 has been a year of involvement, whether through active participation on the athletic field or wild enthusiasm and loyal support from the stands. With each seasonal change have come victories and defeats, but, most important, a sense of pride and accomplishment for a job well done.



Girls Can Be Athletic Too

The Girls' Athletic Association is comprised of girls who share an intense interest in one or more of the girls' sports Basic has to offer. This organization promotes good sportsmanship as well as the desire to win.

This is how Basic's girls become champions.

The average runner sprints until the breath in her is gone,
But the champion has a goal in mind that makes her carry on.
For rest the average runner begs when limp her muscles grow,
But the champion runs on leaden legs, her spirit makes them go.
The average girl's complacent when she's done her best to score,
But the champion does her best,
and then she does a little more.

Under the supervision of Mr. Blockovich, Mr. Stanfill and Mr. Camillone, the club sponsored a most entertaining basketball game between the faculty and lettermen (which the lettermen won). The club also provided the programs for basketball games and wrestling matches.

Let's Hear It . . . . . Basic

A school without "spirit" is a school without soul, so we have plastered the gym, school and football field with signs, and posters, put on pep assemblies and taught the freshmen our cheers.

We took honors in Squaw Valley cheerleading camp last summer and we learned many new cheers and skits.

Freshman cheerleaders are: Adele Brady, Merry Brammer, Debbie Falvey, Lori Hansen, Susie Welker. Advisor: Sara Rosch.

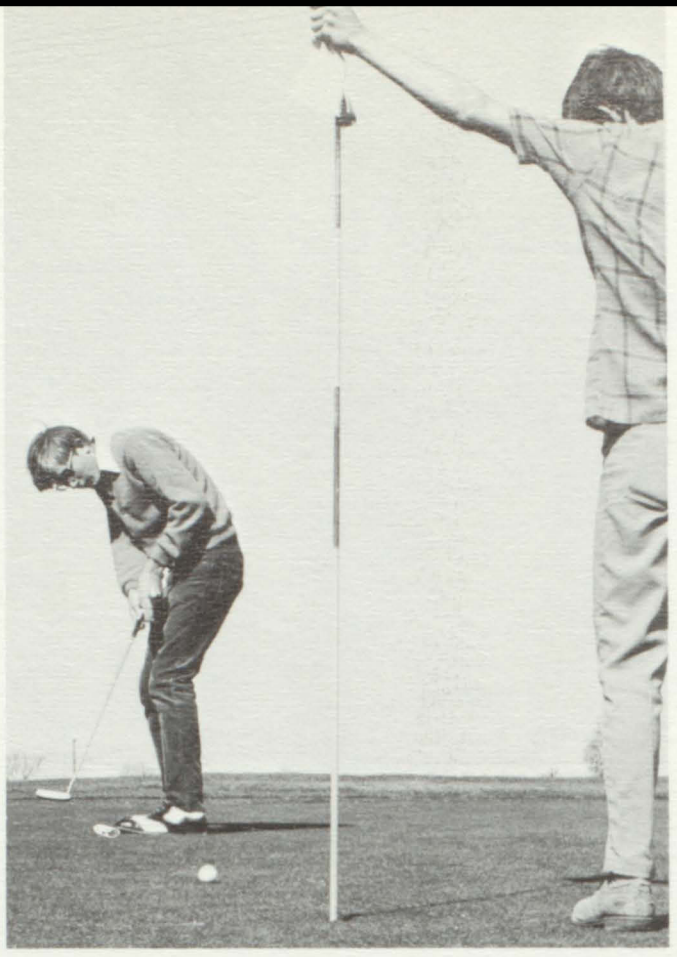
Coaches Bob Taylor and Don Smith are optomistic about Basic's golf team.

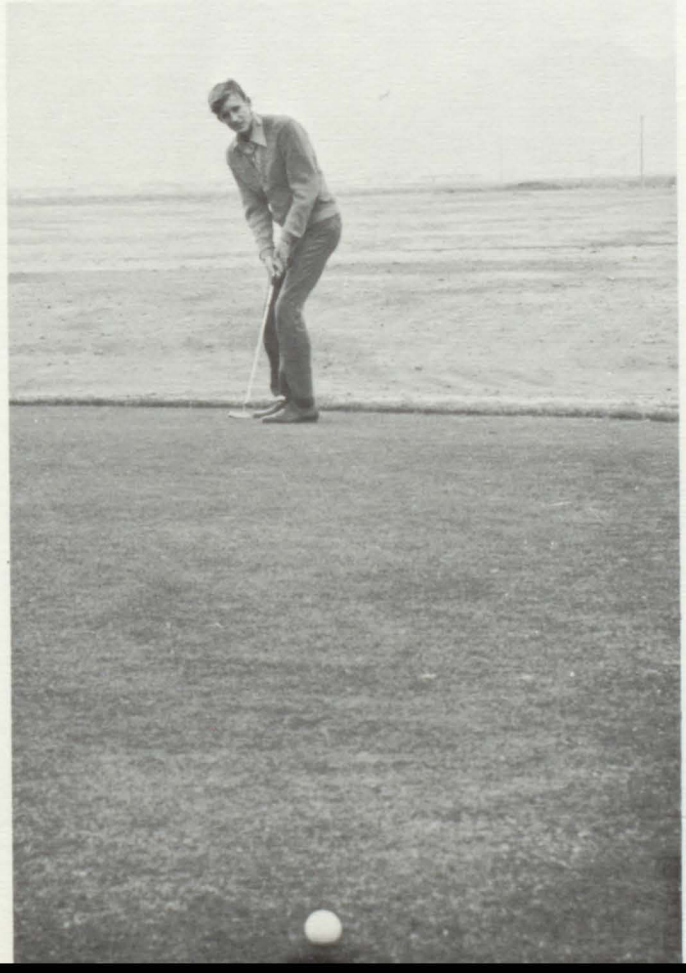


Under the watchful eye of Gary Watson, Jerry Deane sinks a 30 footer.

ROW 1: J. Wigglesworth, M. Rose, R. Henderson, G. Watson ROW 2: B. Taylor, W. Kemp, A. Haag, K. Joslin, J. Deane, L. Cameron

With the aid of Randy Henderson's excellent advice, Will Kemp tries to stroke it up and in.

Intense concentration is the key to success as Alan Haag smashes in a 30 footer.



Gary Watson booms one onto the far distant green.

ADVERTISEMENTS

1971 has been a year of commercial progress. We have seen the birth of new businesses in the Las Vegas and Henderson area and we have contributed to their growth as well as to the older businesses by our patronage. In return, the merchants have seen fit to support us in the publication of the El Lobo by the purchase of advertising space.

REFLECTING 1971

1971 has been a year of changed customs, new ideas, and familiar faces. We have bathed in the light of praise, have shared the glory of knowledge, and have completed the school year with a feeling of regret that these days are gone forever. But, with the help of this book, we have preserved some of the events, to be the crystal ball of the future—mirroring our success and "reflecting 1971."

We would like to thank these people who helped us in reaching things that were beyond our grasp, and who aided us in putting out our book:
Warren Frank for designing our beautiful book cover.
John Shannon for devoting much of his spare time taking photographs for the El Lobo.
The businessmen of Clark County for their financial patronage.
Sanchez Studio for putting so much time and energy into our pictures.
Mark Bradshaw for long hours spent taking pictures.
The faculty and administration for their patience and cooperation, especially with our disrupting picture schedules.
The whole El Lobo Staff for pulling together without an official editor.
And a special thank you to Mrs. Verdena Purcell for guiding us through the year.

Sincerely

THE EL LOBO STAFF
